HONORARY DEGREE
FRANK EDWARD LUCAS
DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

At the pinnacle of the architectural profession, Frank Edward Lucas, FAIA, models the impact of a Clemson graduate's lifetime of integrity and service.

The Charleston architect was inaugurated as the 45th chancellor of the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), the first South Carolinian to hold the honor. He is serving in 2007 during the AIA's 150th anniversary.

Few architects have had as profound an impact on the Southeast as Lucas, co-founder and chairman of LS3P ASSOCIATES LTD. The firm has grown from a one-man company in 1963 to one of the largest architectural firms in the Southeast. With a staff of more than 250 and offices in Charleston, Columbia, Charlotte, Wilmington and Raleigh, LS3P has completed over $5 billion in architectural commissions.

LS3P has received more than 175 local and national awards for design excellence from the American Institute of Architects, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the S.C. Arts Commission and others.

Lucas is nationally known for contributions to his profession's licensure, examination and regulatory standards and procedures. In addition to AIA, he's held leadership roles in the Charleston Council of Architects, State Board of Architectural Examiners, National Council of Architectural Registration Boards and other professional organizations. Lucas is a recipient of the S.C. AIA's highest award, the Medal of Distinction, and was honored by the Charleston Contractors Association as Architect of the Year.

Since graduating in 1959 with a bachelor of architecture degree, and serving as a captain in the Army Artillery, Lucas has contributed his time, talent and resources in a very profound and meaningful way to Clemson University. A charter member of the Presidents Club and an IPTAY member, he has served three terms as president of the Clemson Advancement Foundation for Design + Building. He was also on the University's Board of Visitors, the College of Architecture Advisory Council and the President's Advisory Council, and has shared his expertise with students as a visiting lecturer for ethics, licensing law and professional practice. In 1992, he received the Clemson Alumni Distinguished Service Award.

Lucas is involved in numerous civic organizations devoted to the arts, historic preservation, education and the economy. Among them: S.C. Chamber and Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce, Hibernian Society, Girl Scouts of America, Charleston Arts and History Commission, S.C. Arts Foundation, Trident Technical College Foundation, Trident Economic Development Authority and MUSC Health Sciences Foundation. He was recognized for his contributions to the Charleston community in 1996 with the Joseph P. Riley Leadership Award.

Lucas is a real estate broker, developer, architect and co-owner of The Charleston City Market, one of the most vibrant commercial areas in South Carolina. He is also a founding director of the rapidly growing Community First Bank and Carolina Financial Corp.

It is a most significant occasion when Clemson University recognizes and honors one of our own alumni with the presentation of an honorary doctorate for eminent achievement and meritorious contributions to his profession, his community and his alma mater. It is a distinct privilege to present the honorary degree, Doctor of Humanities, to Frank Lucas.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The Academic procession is composed of the faculty, staff, officers, trustees, and honored guests of the University. Faculty enter by college and each college is preceded by its marshal, a senior faculty member, with the college baton, described under University Regalia.

The college banners are placed on the stage. Each banner is a combination of colors that declare the disciplines taught in that college. These colors, which were established by the American Council on Education, are as follows:

College	Colors	Discipline
Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences	Maize	Agriculture
	Brown	Forestry
	Golden Yellow	Life Sciences
Architecture, Arts, and Humanities	Lilac	Architecture
	Brown	Arts
	White	Humanities
	Dark Blue	Philosophy
Business and Behavioral Science	Drab	Accounting and Business
	Copper	Economics
	Peacock Blue	Public Administration
	Cream	Social Sciences
Engineering and Science	Orange	Engineering
	Golden Yellow	Science
Health, Education, and Human Development	Light Blue	Education
	Apricot	Nursing
	Cream	Social Sciences
Library	Lemon Yellow	Library
Staff	Purple and Orange	Academic Support
Faculty Senate	Purple and White	Instruction

Collegiate faculty follow their marshal in order of academic rank wearing academic costumes of medieval origin. Those who have received their degrees from institutions outside the United States wear costumes specified by the awarding institutions.

The academic costumes of faculty whose degrees are from United States' institutions are specified by a uniform code maintained by the American Council on Education. Caps are black and are usually mortar boards with tassels. Doctors of Philosophy wear gold tassels usually of metallic thread; other degrees wear black or discipline colors.

The bachelor's gown is simple and black with long, pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns, also black, are longer than bachelors. Older gowns have sleeves that terminate at the elbow while those since 1960 have sleeves extended to the wrist. Doctors' gowns are full, with bell-like sleeves. The front is marked by velvet panels and the sleeves are marked by three velvet bars. While most gowns are black with black velvet, one variation is to replace black velvet with velvet in the discipline color. A second variation is a colored gown usually of the university's colors.

All hoods specify the level of degree, the type of discipline studied and the awarding institution. First, degree level is signified by the size of the hood with bachelors' smallest, masters' larger, and doctors' quite large and of a different shape. Clemson does not award hoods to bachelors. The width of the velvet trim also conveys the degree. Secondly, the degree is indicated by the color of the trim edging the hood to form the throat over the gown. The most frequently seen is dark blue, which designates the doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.) degree. Finally, the color of the hood's lining specifies the awarding institution. The colors are displayed in combinations that are drawn from heraldry. Notice that the Clemson University hood is lined with purple through which is an orange chevron (a "V"). Although many combinations are duplicated by dozens of institutions, Clemson is presently the only institution with that registered combination.

The officers, trustees, and honored guests wear academic, ecclesiastical, or military regalia as set forth by their professions with the President of Clemson University wearing a purple gown with four velvet bars piped in gold and the University seal embroidered on the panels. The Trustees wear a similar gown with three velvet bars piped in gold for doctorates and an embroidered palmetto tree on each sleeve for those who do not hold doctorates. Hoods are either from Clemson or from the awarding school. They are preceded by the University Marshal. Clad in a gown of office in gold and purple, the marshal wears no hood and bears the University mace. At the ceremony's close, the faculty do not exit as a part of the recessional but are dismissed, along with students and guests, when the marshal leaves the coliseum.

THE UNIVERSITY REGALIA

The University mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At any official convocation such as commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic clublike shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's prehistory. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of cornelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential chain and seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's chain and seal are made of silver and gold, and cornelian and amethyst.

The batons of the college marshals also descend from medieval "staffs of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the college belongs. Clemson's batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the batons were executed by the late Professor Marshall C. Bell, and the lapidary work was executed by the late Mr. C. C. Wilson of Clemson University.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807–1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828–1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; however, circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (chargé d'affaires to Belgium, 1844–1852) and served as the first Superintendent of Agricultural Affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in founding Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson Campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has six major academic units. These are the College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences, the College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities, the College of Business and Behavioral Science, the College of Engineering and Science, the College of Health, Education, and Human Development, and the Graduate School.

Clemson University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the Bachelor's, Master's, Education Specialist, and Doctor's degrees. Questions related to this accreditation should be directed to Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Colleges, 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, GA 30033-4097; phone 404-679-4501. Information is also available at sacscoc.org.

Curricula are accredited by AACSB International (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business), Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, American Council for Construction Education, American Dietetic Association, American Society of Landscape Architects, Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE), Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP), National Architectural Accrediting Board, National Association of Schools of Art and Design, National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, NRPA/AALR Council on Accreditation, Planning Accreditation Board, and Society of American Foresters. Documentation of accreditation is available in the college deans' offices.

Clemson is a land-grant institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the State. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the State's counties.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

Farmer and McGarity/arr. Freeman

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play;

Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might,

That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of greater conquests,
For our past is grand,

And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale.

Here the Tiger lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood,
For we work and strive;

And our alma mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.

Candidates appearing in this program are not certified graduates. Likewise, academic honors designations are based upon performance prior to final grades. Both certification of graduation and honors designations must come from the Registrar of the University.
